

Aaaaha! Agency for live communication

Do you want to engage and connect your participants? Are you looking for entertainment that fits the theme of your conference? Would you like to capture your conference content in a huge piece of art? Aaaaha! helps you add interactive session-formats and tailor-made entertainment.

Engage and connect your participants

We have expertise in surprising meeting formats, that will activate your conference-participants. We will make your topic come to life and get your audience in action. That's the power of live communication.

Our professional conference moderators set the right atmosphere and actively engage your audience. On a regular basis our moderators present international meetings and conferences in the Netherlands and abroad.

Are you planning to organise an international conference or sales meeting in the Netherlands? We are specialised in typically Dutch entertainment: Delft blue living statues, comedian on the habits of the Dutch and Dutch cheesemaids.

Our actresses facilitate live matchmaking. They wear especially designed ropes covered with the business cards of your attendees. As charming hostesses they connect your guests with each other in a lively way.

Our video reporter produces an aftermovie of your event. He edits on location throughout the day. The finished result (usually 4 minutes) can be shown at the end of the conference. The video can also be used to promote the next edition of your event.

The Superbrainstorm is a collective brainstorm, that actively involves every participant. Live crowdsourcing lets people exchange ideas with each other. After each discussion round our Superbrainstormer will collect the most inspiring solutions in a lively way.

We offer creative ways to capture the content of your meeting: live mindmapping, live business cartooning, live illustrators or the Wallreport. This enables you to send your conference delegates a actionable insights after your meeting.
